What we do

We enable the instant digital economy at a fair price. In Europe, Middle East and Africa.

Gaming and digital entertainment is one of the fastest growing industries globally. Holyo's ecosystem helps enthusiasts in Europe, the Middle East and Africa to purchase digital goods at unprecedented speed, convenience and a customer experience based on relationships. Our mission is to become an essential gateway for consumers to pursue their hobby or even build a gaming career. And for digital content providers to monetize their digital content in fast growing emerging markets.

What it is like to be in our team

Life at Holyo is fast-paced: our instinct is to bite off a bit more than we can chew, so we're always busy. As a rapidly growing startup, we're always ready to keep up and adapt to changes quickly; when we go fast, we have shorter time to react.

We're always impatient and we don't wait for things to happen; we hustle to make them happen. If you're someone who is tired of waiting for your ideas to be heard; someone who is hungry to contribute more; someone who derives more satisfaction from team wins rather than from individuals ones; and someone who values integrity rather than cutting corners - you will fit perfectly into the Holyo team!
